Newsletter Date: December 13, 2008

WDWCelebrations is excited to formally announce our next event:

Studio 20

A WDWCelebrations Commemorative Event

honoring the 20th Anniversary of Disney's Hollywood Studios

Join us Friday, May 1 – Saturday, May 2, 2009 for two fun-filled days with like-minded Disney fans to celebrate the 20th anniversary of this great park.

Registration for Studio 20 will open on January 1, 2009. Further details including a tentative schedule will be released at that time. Newsletter subscribers will receive a sneak preview of the tentative schedule a few days before registration opens.

We'd like to thank everyone who joined us for the World Wide Weekend in September. We had a great time and hope you did too. We've added an event recap as well as several photos from the event to the World Wide Weekend page in our Event Archive at <http://www.wdwcelebrations.com/event-archive.html>

In addition, PDF versions of the event schedule, World Showcase Scavenger Hunt, scavenger hunt answer key, and the Downtown Disney Pleasure Island History Walk script are also available on our website for all to enjoy.

We're also proud that we were able to make another donation to the DisneyWorldTrivia Dream Team Project in conjunction with the World Wide Weekend event. On Friday September 26, we presented Lou Mongello with a virtual check for $500, and we sincerely thank everyone who helped make that happen, especially our Premium Registrants (a portion of each Premium Registration fee was included in the donation total). A recap of the donation and several pics are posted on the Dream Team Blog at <http://www.disneyworldtrivia.com/Dream-Team-Blog/> .

For more information about the DisneyWorldTrivia Dream Team Project, head to <http://www.disneyworldtrivia.com/Dream-Team-Project.html>

. If you make a donation and mention WDWCelebrations in the comments, we will include your contribution in our next donation presentation at Studio 20.

Stay tuned for more information about Studio 20 over the next several weeks! And as always, thanks for your support.
